Organist

Hannah Albrecht

Hannah Albrecht earned a bachelor's degree in music at Bryn Mawr College, where she studied organ, piano, and composition. She has taken organ lessons with Clair Rozier, Patrick Allen, and James David Christie, and studied piano with Matt Bengtson and Curt Cacioppo. Several of her compositions, including psalms and other service music, have debuted at Messiah. Hannah has worked as an accompanist for Philadelphia Sinfonia, Cordus Mundi, Neshaminy Valley Music Theater, and other choral groups and instrumentalists in the area. Hannah is also the administrative coordinator at Philadelphia Sinfonia.
